To our Country Patrons Please to register your letters containing remit-ances, as we hold ourselves responsible for all losses o us when letters are registered. We are not re-ponsible for losses in the mails, should they occur, inless letters are registered.

The editor of the Journal is not pleased that the Hon, Garret Davis should go to Washington to remonstrate with the powers that be against the conduct of affairs in this State. Davis has been a bitter opponent of the Administration, and, therefore, not likely to be listened to. We don't suppose the Hon. Garret Davis went to Washington to ask favors, but to state facts, which it is for statesmen to hear and act upon. We presume it is the business of the President to do justice; he is not asked for favors The Journal suggests that President John son will not attend to the representations of a Senator from Kentucky on a matter of interest to the State and the country, ecause the appeal is made by a political opponent. We were told several times during the canvass that we had better send Abelitionists to Congress, for they would have influence with their party. and could de semething for the State; whereas, the Democrats would have none, and could obtain nothing. Kentucky is not a beggar, and has no favors to ask. She elects representatives to suit her, not to suit "more than regal power." She can afford to suffer these rascalities as long as her enemies can afford to practice them. If they do not choose to reform, it is all the worse for them, if the people of the United States prove fit for self-government. If they prove otherwise, let them go to and this State will go elsewhere. This State has done no wrong to the Federal Government; but she has suffered nothing but wrongs from it, and we mistake the State if the people ever beg the Government to do right. We presume the Louisville Journal will advise the State to wait until the editor and his party ask the President to do justice, and make their representation of affairs, and obtain such favors as they desire at the expense of the Constitution and laws of this State. Of course they would never ask for justice; it is what they have most reason to fear; nor is it at all likely that justice will be meted out by the powers that be. Partisans never ee justice. They can't see their crimes. If they do, their crimes are almost virtues. They will deny when they can't palliate the worst enormities; invent apologies and excuses until their sins become rirtues in their own eyes.

We are glad Davis has gone to Washgton. He will do some talking, but no pegging. If the President can afford not o heed his appeals, this State can afford o let him do so. The facts here are a part of the history of the times and history that will tell, provided the people are not ready for imperial power. If they are, they will let us know when they get tired

The Journal says, we fight against the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine for the first time in our lives. The reasons everybody, except blind partisans, see. Our ust now. We are imitating that sort of government we were once so averse to. We ere opposed to the arbitrary governments, such as existed in Europe; and it was not our interest to allow antagonistic ideas of government to set up on our borers. But as our institutions are assimiions have no foundation. A foreign Emperor is no particular objection. We have almost now as many foreigners as natives in the United States. We had better show world first that we can maintain free stitutions, before we make mouths at thers, and thus make ourselves a laughng stock for the rest of mankind. It will not cost us much as the Journal thinks: but the Journal is no financier. We owe debt every day. It is idle to tell us that we can carry on such a war as France ould maintain without piling up debt nountain high, and France would not alone in such a contest.

When it is seen that the otton, s igar and rice don't come, it will be the fault of the rascally white man. They will just make a little change, and then it will work to a charm. So it will go on until the negro himself is played out, as well as the cotton and sugar, and then these organs or their successors will that could have happened for the negro and still better for the white man. The Washington Chronicle, a brother Abolionist of the Press, tells its readers that the free negro is destined to an early extermination.

CHAS. C. BRENNER. in the States to settle that question,

The Union Democracy has changed less, perhaps, than any other party since this war began. The same declarations that were made in 1861 represent the feeling of the State now. In the General Assembly, soon after the invasion of the State by General Bishop Polk, the following resolution was passed respecting citi zens who entertained secession views:

zens who entertained secession views:

Resolved, That in using the means which duty and honor require shall be used to expel the invaders from the soil of Kentucky, no citizen shall be molested on account of his political opinion—that no citizen's property shall be taken or confiscated because of such opinions, nor shall any slave be set free by any military commander; and that all peaceable citizens who remain at home and attend to their private business, until legally called into the public service, as well as their families, are entitled to, and shall receive, the fallest protection of the Government in fullest protection of the Government in the enjoyment of their lives, their liber-ties and their property.

Kentucky is now opposed to the molestation of any citizen on account of his political opinions. She is opposed to the seizure of any citizen's property because of his opinions, and declares now, as then, that no slaves shall be set free by any military commander.

These principles are the ones upon which the recent Legislature was elected. They defeated the party that opposed them, and they meet at Frankfort only to sustain the views and policy adopted in 1861.

The public, by looking at the returns of the late election, will see that the friends of the amendment gained several members of the Legislature in the loyal parts of the State, and lost strength only in the notoriously disunion counties. This is an undeniable fact, and one of very great significance. It unconvicedly inreat significance. It unequivocally in-licates, what indeed would be sufficiently dicates, what indeed would be sufficiently manifest without it, that the anti-amendment element in our State is the disloyal element, the secession element, the rebel element. There isn't a rebel in the State that didn't vote and electioneer against the amendment. If only loyal citizens had voted, if only those had voted who had a moral right to vote, the amendment would have been carried fifteen or twenty to one.—[Journal (Thursday.)

Why, you pitiful humbug, didn't you say on Wednesday that you were in favor of the repeal of the expatriation law, by which all this "disloyal element, the seession element, the rebel element," is to plan of allowing only loyal citizens to vote would have carried if the Journal office had been judge of what loyalty is; and, from its course now, it promises to be soon a very select body, comprised in perhaps one, or, at most, two editors, of hat "only loyal paper in Kentucky."

There is going to be a row over cross the street. The editors of the Journal don't submit their articles one to another, and as they turn out editorials as striped as Jacob's sheep, such mixing of the breed will not do.

We expect to see our neighbor standing on that iron-railing balcony with his slippered foot just withdrawing two or three inches from some noble editor who has urgent and immediate business in the street in front of Muldoon's marble store The air will probably be perfumed with ome sulphurous "cuss-words" about "What do you think of that for an expatriation law?" but that is a matter between the gentleman hunting a grave-stone at the marble store and the senior editor of

You ill-smenning and sack of poudrette—don't you know that the amnesty held out by the President to those who take the prescribed oath does not embrace the right of voting?

[Journal. health-didn't you know that the amnes-cal parties in the country, and especially by the Radicals. Gen. Palmer approves the doctrine, evidently, from a recent speech he made. We take it that the Conservative Legislature of Kentucky, electenough now, and are still increasing the ed, as it was, over the head of most outrageous military interference, sanctioned, connived at and secured by their opponents, will not feel under any special obligations to select for paying officers in the two Houses such men as labored for their defeat. There are plenty of deserving Conservatives to fill all the Legislative offices. "A word to the wise," &c.

In the list of members elect to the Legislature, we notice the name of our old friend, J. R. Thomas, Esq., of Marion county. He has been in the House of Representative four years, and is now elected to another term. He was Chairman of the Committee on Corporations during the last session, and had a vast amount of work to do. He has proved himself not only a faithful representative. Legislature, we notice the name of our the experiment has been tried, and was amount of work to do. He has proved himself not only a faithful representative to his immediate constituency, but a working member whose services are appreciated by the State.

The editor of the Journal wonders that we did not devote much of one issue of the Democrat to him. The fact is, heshrieked in such agony that we felt pity for him. and held off from the scourging we had ready for him. If he does not behave himself, we shall print his shabby paragraphs he put forth about a prisoner.

For more than thirty years, I have watched the tortuous career of this man, and have never seen reason to abandon my first impression of his character, Whether acting with the Democratic, the Know-Nothing, or the Republican party, for he has in turn disgraced them all, he has never been false to his criminal instincts. He has endeavored to turn them all to profitable account. His ambition is sordid, and panders to his avarice, and he measures honors by the perquisites they expose to his grasp. He has no confidence in the people and is aware that they distrust him. His speech of Thursday evening was not characteristic of him, for he is prone to the use of instruments. Can this be said of any other cure for Chills and Fever? It is true of this, and its importance to those afflicted with the complaint cannot be over estimated. So sure is it to cure the Fever and Ague, that it may be trothfully said to be a cer emedy. One dealer complains that it is not a good nedicine to sell, because one bottle cures a whole neighborhood. Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. and sold by E. WILDER, Louisville, Ky., and by all Druggists. jy29 deod&w2m

At Gosport, on Tuesday, a murderous assault was made upon R. K. Boyd, of that village, by W. Brasier and his two sons. Some two years ago, the two Brasier boys were convicted of stealing, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Boyd, who was arrested, was also a witness against them. It is ascertained that during his boys' imprisonment the old man frequently threatened that Boyd would be killed when they got home, and that on Tuesday morning, while proceeding to town he said they were going to kill him. Wesley first knocked Boyd down with a slung-shot, and as he arose to his feet old Brasier threw a rock which Broke Boyd's arm. Citizens interfered and prevented further injury. They were arrested and gave bail, but have since ran away. The New Albany Ledger says:
